Peronne's Gas Bombardment Falls

German Attempt Cannot Win; Allies Must Deal Blow For Blow

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—There is nothing in current news from overseas to warrant any disquietude on the part of the American public for any of the nations allied against Germany, in the opinion of Captain Ardouin, French high commissioner to the United States. In a statement issued here today, however, he counselled the hastening of preparations in this country to deal the enemy "blow for blow."

"The German attack," said Captain Ardouin, "seems to have exceeded by violence, by the number of guns as well as by the number of men, all previous attacks, but I insist that this attack is exactly similar to all those which have already been repulsed. The two last days seem to me to be absolutely similar to the two first days of battle at Verdun in February, 1916. The British retirement near St. Quentin relatively is not more important than the French retirement was at the beginning of the Verdun engagement."

"Ten days after at Verdun we had ceased to retire and the result was of negligible value to Germany. We have every right to think that the outcome will be the same this time. Our gallant and brave comrades of the British army will be able to do now what we have done in Verdun, and, side by side with the British, the French army is ready to render the enemy blow for blow."

54 AIRPLANES OF ENEMY ARE BROUGHT DOWN

Mass of German Troops Offer Good Targets for British Machines

LONDON, March 24 (Bulletin).—An official report on the aerial operations says that 54 enemy airplanes have been brought down.

LONDON, March 23.—An official statement on the aerial operations issued tonight says:

"A thick morning mist, on Friday prevented our airplanes from leaving the ground during the early part of the day. When the mist cleared, our machines were very active in the air over our front. The enemy's low-flying machines were particularly accurate, and our forward squadrons were successful in bringing them down."

"The enemy's massed troops again offered good targets for our low-flying airplanes. Two hours after the first of hostile troops and transport were reported to our artillery, and successfully engaged."

"At half past two of hostile were dropped on hostile railway stations. The enemy's low-flying machines on the enemy's battle, high velocity guns, troops and transport. The fighting in the air was very fierce, almost all the hostile machines being brought down. Twenty-seven enemy machines were brought down and twenty were driven down out of control. Two hostile machines were shot down in our lines by anti-aircraft guns, and another by our artillery. Eight of our machines are missing."

"During the night our squadrons dropped over fourteen tons of bombs on hostile battle, ammunition dumps and areas in the enemy's territory."

Appalling Slaughter on Both Sides Marks Conflict at Critical Points Along Line of Attack—Advanced Posts of British Fight to the Last Man

LONDON, March 24.—The village of Morval, in the north of France, has been the centre of an inferno of conflict since the morning of Friday. The reason for this is that the British and French armies were fighting for the possession of this village, which is a key position in the line of attack. The fighting was so fierce that the British and French armies were forced to retreat from the village. The British and French armies were forced to retreat from the village. The course of the battle is now in the hands of the British. A captured German soldier stated: "The German attack was a desperate one. We must have been quickly repulsed."

EXTENSION OF PHONE SYSTEM IS NECESSARY

Special Report Being Prepared — Filtration Plant in Danger of Breakdown

A schedule of rules and regulations to cover service in the city telephone department will go before the city council on Tuesday night. The committee will try to get the utility committee on Friday.

There was some discussion on the fact that the city telephone department would not be in the position of carrying out further extensions for the purpose of carrying long distance calls. The city council was made to the existing exchanges.

The committee will make a special report on the matter presented to a future meeting of council.

A report will also be made on the filtration plant in connection with the waterworks system. There is a possibility that a breakdown may occur owing to the fact that the water supply is not so good as it used to be, and has been reported as far back as last year by Acting-Supt. Fawns.

The Area Where Titanic Struggle is Now in Progress

Some One Candidate May win Two Automobiles!

A True Story

Entered in a newspaper contest some years ago was a young man whose ambition—the same as the ambition of many in the present Bulletin contest—was to win an automobile. He made splendid progress from the very beginning. About a week and a half from the close he thought he had the car cinched, stopped working for subscriptions and built a garage!

What do you think happened? Another candidate who wasn't quite so sure and worked hard until the last day, won the automobile.

Moral: Build your reserve votes as well as your main ones, and let the garage wait until after you get the car.

$1115 BRISCOE AUTO

This is the best special prize and best vote offer that will be given during the contest. So don't mislead yourself, Mr. Candidate, into thinking there will be a better vote offer. Those who miss this offer will find themselves many thousands of votes short in the final count.

2nd Subscriptions Count Up Fast

If you have run out of territory, you can safely start going back a second time to the subscribers who gave you three or six months, and in many instances you can add one or two years to the first year. These "second payments" are great vote getters. A second and third year (two years) added to a new year given earlier in the contest, gives 18,000 more votes. A few of these will help out wonderfully.

$1,000 IN GOLD

Will be given if at any time during the remainder of the contest a better vote offer is given. At no time during the remainder of the contest will it be possible to secure more votes for subscriptions as can be secured by mid-night, April 3. Neither will there be any more special prizes given. This is conclusive evidence, therefore, that the best offers are now on. Get busy!

50,000 EXTRA VOTES

For every $15 worth of new subscriptions turned in by midnight, April 3.
